B. P. O. ELKS CELEBRATE

ANNUAL IN FINE STYLE

About a hundred twenty-five were in attendance last evening at the annual stag banquet held by the B. P. O. Elks at their home and a most glorious night was enjoyed until the wee sma' hours. A fine banquet was served by Caterer Hupfer and this was followed by a program a la cabaret under the charge of J. B. McDonald.

All did ample justice to the supper which consisted of an abundance of eatables and drinkables and a jolly time was enjoyed with the singing of old familiar airs between the courses. Stamp's orchestra furnished music during the feast and throughout the entire evening.

After the meal the fireworks went up and the program was pronounced to be the best that has ever been given here. The program started with the singing of "It's a Long Way out on the Prairies, but North Platte Lies There" in which all present joined. Following this some very clever stunts were presented which pleased the audience very much. Musical selections were presented by Frank McGovern, Harry Lawson, Earl Stamp and Prof. A. E. Garlich.

Other numbers on the program were a dark soliloquy given by Rolfe Halligan, a Dutch dialogue with music by Messrs. James Clinton and Joseph Stone, a song and dance by James Clinton, Frank McGovern, Jack Stack, Will Friend, Miss Ernest Rinecker and Miss Davy Day, which was very clever.

The closing was a great war drama with the Czar Nicholas, the Emperor George, President Poincaré and Kaiser Wilhelm, all present bedecked out in their military accoutrements. This was a clever pantomime and after the singing of songs a squad of soldiers gave drills. They had infantry, cavalry, siege guns and Zeppelins from which toy balloon bombs dropped. This was the triumph of the evening's entertainment and brought down the house. Following this a number of those present were presented by the Kaiser with the Iron Cross as a reward for certain services after which the men were dispersed. The program was pronounced the best success ever.

J. O. ANDERSON and L. HENRY, 99-6 Lexington, Neb.

Frank Nugent of Maxwell was a business visitor in the city yesterday.

North Platte Gets Extra Service.

An extra courtesy was extended the North Platte postoffice department this week by the government when they allowed passenger train No. 1 to be added to the mail trains running into this city. Since taking off No. 11 the mail services from the east has been greatly crippled but this will make up the deficiency.

This new mail train will bring in a pouch from Chicago and also one from Omaha. North Platte is the only town in Nebraska outside of Omaha that gets this service. No. 1 is a mail train from Chicago to Omaha but has never before carried mail farther than Omaha. This allows an afternoon delivery of mail to get in and be distributed in time for the afternoon delivery while before all the mail that came in after the morning trains had to wait over until the next day to be delivered.

For Trade

I have a nine room residence with quarter block of ground well located in first class condition, located in Kearney, Nebraska. I will trade for cheap grazing land tributary to North Platte. Prefer to deal with owner. This place will bear the closest inspection. C. H. LEDBETTER, 991f Kearney, Neb.
